6,000,000 Are Blind
Happy Are the Banks
The Nature of Woman
War, Famine, Stocks, Etc.
—By Arthur Brisbane—

Copyright, 1928, by Star Co.

THE AMERICAN FEDERATION OF LABOR, ably led by President Green, will join the National Society for the Prevention of Blindness in a national campaign of prevention.

There are in the world at least 6,000,000 totally blind. To know how great is the affliction, stop reading for a moment, close your eyes, and ask yourself what life would be worth, if you could never open them.

Ignorance increases blindness, and disease born of vice, and superstition increases it. In Egypt, today, you may see in fants with flies attacking their eyes, the mothers afraid to hurt the flies, because it is a sin. Your grandmother's spirit might live in one of the flies. That superstition alone has caused thousands of Egyptian children to lose their sight.

National City Bank stock went up $400 a share last week, rising $100 in one day. The Hanover National Bank prepares to give stockholders a stock dividend of 100 per cent. Mr. Baker's First National Bank pays 100 per cent. cash dividends. All three in New York city.

This real thanksgiving period for bank stock owners is not surprising. Borrowers pay from 7 to 9 per cent interest. One day's dealings, in these 5,000,000 share days amounts to six billion dollars.

Seven per cent on that would amount to $420,000,000 in a year. And call money interest is only part of banking profits.

At present interest rates, with a little time, the banks would have all the money.

Who can explain the nature of woman, or the terrible intensity of jealousy? The Bible and Shakespeare tried, but it cannot be done. Robert E. Evans, Denver policeman was in love with Faric King, trained nurse, told her so, then married someone else.

She waited five years, and when he was brought to the hospital, wounded in a fight with bootleggers, she killed him, as he lay sleeping, in the early morning, and shot herself.

Her farewell note said: "You belong to me. I have waited five years for this chance and it came." She asked that she might be buried near him.

Explain all that if you can. If she recovers, as she may, will a jury convict her or say with the Bible that jealousy hath a most vehement flame, and was too much for her?

Lord Cecil advocates "absolute equality in tons and guns, in the navies of Britain and the United States."

This is quite a concession by the British. They find that word "equality" unpalatable.

Why not stick to the plan originated by Britain, in the old days? "We've got the men, we've got the ships, we've got the money, too?"

With men, ships and money, Britain ruled the waves and ruled the roost.

France announces that her standing army will be reduced to 598,000 men in 1930. Painleve, minister of war, says, France must have a big army until war among the states of Europe becomes impossible, as is war, now, among the United States.

Marshal Feng Yu-Hsiang, China's minister of war says $20,000,000 will not begin to solve the famine problem. His four provinces alone need at least $48,000,000, only $1.50 a month each to feed the starving.

Hungry Chinese have ceased selling their children, because no one buys them. The children are abandoned on the roadside, whoever will may take them—or they starve.

It was worse in Rome when it was legal to expose unwanted infants on the public square to be taken by anybody, or eaten by stray dogs.

Russia is enjoying a new war scare. Earnest communists believe that "capitalist nations" are in a conspiracy to destroy Russia and sovietism. Russia worries about increasing friendliness between Britain and Japan, suspecting a plot to "encircle" Russia.

Capitalism is too intelligent to plan bolshevism's destruction. To attempt that would, temporarily, keep communism alive. The remedy for communism IS WEALTH. Make communism rich, and communism will say: "I had no idea there was so much money, so much comfort. I must revise my views."

With Sir Stanley Hewett and Lord Dawson of Penn, he remained in conference for more than two hours. At the end of that time the day's first bulletin was issued. It is unofficially understood that the Brockton, Nov. 30—[illegible] smoked glasses and [illegible] ed parlor, [illegible] year-old daughter of the Chemist C. E. Bolling, [illegible] for a week in connection with the high school "burglary ring," surrendered in the court today.

Before a curious throng that filled the courtroom, the attractive [illegible] hair [illegible] pleaded not guilty to two counts of breaking and entering, waived examination and was held in $1000 for the grand jury by Judge William G. Rowe.

After the court proceedings Miss Bolling and her father ran to a waiting automobile and drove to their home for a brief stop. The big car then headed for the Cape, presumably for the Bollings' summer home at Orleans.

George H. Grinnell, 17-year-old high school boy, has been under arrest the same time in connection with the same charges, which were followed by sensational stories of midnight bathing parties and card games in which high school girls and business men were alleged to have participated.

HUNT 'COUNT' MONTE AS FUGITIVE FROM JUSTICE

"Count" Paul Monte became a fugitive from justice today when a capias for his arrest on eight was issued in federal court.

Monte, who cut a dashing figure in society and who figured prominently in the Grover divorce case in Salem, later going to jail at Plymouth for impersonating an officer, is charged with violation of his parole.

According to federal officials he is missing from his usual "haunts," including, his home in Winthrop and the residence of a prominent Plymouth family which befriended him when recently, he was released from jail after serving two-thirds of a two-year sentence.

Officials say Monte admitted sending a telegram to the Plymouth jail warden, signing the name of Probation Officer McSweeney, and nearly effecting the release of William D. (Okey) O'Connor, former postal clerk.

CALL MONEY AT 10 P. C., HALTS BIG BULL DRIVE

The steam-roller bull movement in the high-priced market favorites struck a sense today in Wall street, when the banks made a hurry call for $50,000,000 from the call loan market and the call rate shot upward to 10 per cent.

The banks wanted the money to pay the December interest and dividends, an event mounting and expanding drain on their money chests.

The resourceful bulls shifted over to the railroad stocks and better grades of oils and coppers, carrying everything before them in a cyclone of whirlwind upward sweeps of the Standard (Ind. New York Central Railroad, Anaconda Copper and other stocks in that group.

Thousands of Homes Await a Goodfellow

How did you enjoy Thanksgiving?

Undoubtedly you absorbed your share of turkey, augmented by fitting mounds of white and sweet potato, squash, turnip and chestnut stuffing, steaming boiled onions, side dish of cranberry, squash—with plum pudding and pie and cider and coffee and nuts and what not following after.

Joy reigned at such a table as yours, it could almost be said as a certainty.

It was a good Thanksgiving—and now you are looking forward to a happy Christmas celebration.

But while you were in the midst of your well-earned pleasure, did you consider the countless thousands of others in Greater Boston who grieved but still felt themselves lucky to be able to partake of but ordinary fare on Thanksgiving Day.

The countless thousands who, thankful that their few pennies had enabled them to buy at least something to keep body and soul together on the festal day, looked forward to a Christmas celebration containing nothing of happiness—and threatening to contain much in the way of want and privation!

If you gave thought to these others,

CHIEF IS INDICTED

Police Chief Michael C. Conlon of North Adams, his uncle, John F. Conlon, and two other men were today indicted by a federal grand jury for conspiracy to violate the prohibition law.

The other two are Frank C. Sinclitico and Antonio G. Girgenti. The latter was previously indicted for perjury in connection with testimony before a grand jury.

The government charges these four conspired to manufacture, possess, transport and sell intoxicating liquor; that Sinclitico and Girgenti paid money to John F. Conlon, and that the police chief "tipped off" Sinclitico of an impending raid.

THIRD DOCTOR IS CALLED IN CONSULTATION ON KING GEORGE

FEAR NEW TURN IN ILLNESS

attending doctors now fear their patient is suffering congestion of the liver.

It was noted that there was a distinct air of depression among palace officials following the consultation of the three doctors.

The day's first bulletin made no mention of the liver congestion. It read:

"The inflammation of the lung and pleura shows some improvement, the temperature is slightly lower. The time of perso'ie exacerbation of the infection, it must be noted, has not yet passed and in any case progress must be slow."

The bulletin was signed by all three physicians.

The alarm which the calling of Sir Humphrey naturally caused was partly headed off by a semi-official statement saying his majesty was "little better all around today," and the regular bulletin, when issued, appeared to confirm this earlier communication.

CRISIS NOT PASSED.

The doctors took their time, reviewing carefully the whole position of the most likely developments. Consequently their usual bulletin was given out much later than customary.

The information that there has been some improvement in the condition of the inflamed lung and pleura and a little recession of the fever, caused gratification; but it was noted that the bulletin ended with the precaution that the malady has not yet passed the stage where aggravation of the infection would not be possible and made clear to the public that in any event there could not be a rapid convalescence for His Majesty since progress necessarily must be slow.

Sir Humphrey reached the palace after Lord Dawson and Sir Stanley had been with the king about an hour. Sir Humphrey, a new figure among the advisers in the present illness, has won a rich place in the medical profession and holds a number of important positions in Great Britain.

CROWD AT PALACE.

To members of the medical profession his name is especially remembered with that of Sir Clifford Allbutt as joint editor of "A System of Medicine" in 11 volumes.

Since his appointment to a Cambridge professorship he has relinquished much of his work in London and now lives in Cambridge.

While the three doctors were in consultation at the palace, Sir William Joynson-Hicks, the home secretary, arrived.

There was an exceptionally large crowd outside Buckingham Palace when today's bulletin was posted owing to the long delay, the reason for which had not been circulated generally.

The Lancet, leading British medical journal off the press today, reviews the King's illness and points out that the lung infection did not set in suddenly as most people believe.

The Lancet points out that for some days before he was taken to his bed the King was not in good health, but he continued to fill engagements and it was during this period that the disease had its first start.

Queen Victoria of Spain and her two daughters have left for Spain, after having remained in London while the king's condition was considered precarious. Their leave-taking was taken as another omen by the populace that they have been assured that the king's improvement has been marked and that a steady improvement is now looked for.

Regret over the King's illness has been expressed on all sides. A resolution of regret over his illness was adopted by the general council of the Trade Union Council. The resolution also bespoke the wishes of the membership for a speedy and complete recovery.

As an indication of the regret prevalent everywhere here, J. H. Thomas, former secretary of the state for the dominions in the Ramsay MacDonald Labor government, struck a keynote in a speech in London. He declared: "In this great hour of trial there is no class in the community slower in its desire for the King's speedy recovery than the great body of the working classes."

Arrangements are going forward for the ceremonies of enthronement of the Most Rev. Cosmo Gordon Lang as Archbishop of Canterbury, December 4 at Canterbury Cathedral. The ceremonies had been postponed, but are now to take place unless some change for the worse takes place in the King's condition.

fast, which comes at 6:30, the county is through with him and soon after that hour he will step forth and into the arms of his loyal followers, who have planned a parade and "demonstration of affection."

FIGHTING FOR TAYLOR

He had a holiday again today because the laundry in which he has been working was not operating, and he strutted about the cell tier and lounged in the guardroom as he was interviewed.

"I want to talk about George Taylor, that fellow who just lost his appeal to the Supreme Court after he was convicted of killing that girl up in Salisbury," he said. "I've talked a lot with that fellow in this place here and observed him lots more, and I don't think he's guilty.

"He's a mighty cool customer and he doesn't impress me as the kind of man who would do that sort of thing. Of course, he is laboring under a great strain, but if he is guilty, he's the coolest proposition I ever met.

GOING TO BIG GAME

"When I make my speech tomorrow night, in front of the City Hall or in Market sq., or wherever it is, I'm going to talk for him and bring out the whole story of George Taylor. The fair-minded people, when they hear my story, should get together and demand that Governor Fuller at least commute Taylor's sentence to life imprisonment.

"There's been a lot of raw stuff pulled in Salisbury since the war and it looks as if that girl must have been murdered in one of the shacks there. Her dress wasn't wet and there wasn't any sand in her shoes, yet they say she lay on the beach all night.

"I don't know just what time I'm going to leave here tomorrow because I don't know what time my friends are coming for me, but I'm going to the B. C.-Holy Cross game in the afternoon. My friends don't want me to appear in town till 6 or 6:30 tomorrow night.

LOTS OF SENSATIONS

"I promise there will be a lot of sensations come down there tomorrow night. I'll be hostile. I don't care who's coming for me, but I'm going to the B. C.-Holy Cross game in the afternoon. My friends don't want me to appear in town till 6 or 6:30 tomorrow night.

LOTS OF SENSATIONS

"I promise there will be a lot of sensations come down there tomorrow night. I'll be hostile. I don't care who's coming for me, but I'm going to be the whole hog or no hog. I haven't been doing this two months' rap for nothing. Yes, boy, there will be explosives.

"Some of those high-hat High st. birds have passed the word that they are going to 'bug' me. There aren't any bugs in my head, but there's a lot of insanity in some of their families.

"A theatrical man was down here last week talking over a 5-minute act and I may be offered a contract as a result, but it won't start till after New Year's, for there is too much stuff to do in Newburyport. Get it on a upside seat and leave the lady folks at home."

cloche hat, blue wrap-around coat, black chiffon stockings and black shoes. Miss Bolling healtatingly entered the courtroom between her father and Mrs. Louise E. Lake, probation officer.

The trio took their seats on the front bench, with the girl's shoulder to the dock, where a group of unwashed drunks, arrested over the holiday, awaited a hearing.

PLEADS NOT GUILTY.

As Clerk Charles King read her name Miss Bolling stood up and a stir ran around the courtroom. Her father, combined with the smoked glasses, bore out the statement of her father that eye trouble and a nervous breakdown caused her removal from high school.

The clerk read the charges, one count having to do with a break in the drug store of Herbert E. Dunnington, and the second with a similar entry into the home of LeHaven Atherton of Ash st., where a pearl necklace and a pin were taken.

In a clear but faint voice the girl replied: "Not guilty. I waive examination."

Judge Howe then found probable cause and fixed bail at $1500 on each charge, after which Miss Bolling, accompanied by her father and Mrs. Lake, disappeared into the probation office. Bail previously had been arranged for, so that there was no delay in obtaining her release and the girl was not required to take her place in the dock.

CROWD DISAPPOINTED

The crowd of spectators who had assembled in the courtroom in the hope that something might come out concerning the alleged midnight revels, was disappointed and the majority left at the conclusion of the proceedings.

Following the arrest of young Grinnell, a warrant was issued for Miss Bolling, only for the police to learn that she was missing. Her father was at first reported to have declared he did not know the girl's whereabouts, but later assured the police he would produce Ruth when desired. Wednesday at a conference between Bolling, Judge Howe and Inspector Chase, he agreed to have the girl in court today.

RELICS OF STONE AGE DISCOVERED IN IRAQ

New Haven, Ct., Nov. 30 (AP)—Word has been received by Dr. George Grant MacCurdy, director of the American School of Prehistoric Research, from Miss Dorothy A. Garrod, leader of the British-American expedition to Iraq, that relics of the old stone age have been found in two groups of caves near Sulaimaniah. One of the caves at Larn in the first group contains a deposit especially rich in artifacts left there by a race corresponding to that which in Europe is known as Cro-Magnon. A still older industrial remains have been found by the joint expedition in the caves of the second group, remains left by a race corresponding to that known as Neandenthal in Europe.

Cupid Gets Free Rent in Abandoned P. O.

Downtown Boston now boasts of a building with free office space, heat and telephone service. And Uncle Sam is the philanthropist who is footing the bills for these accommodations—with the privilege of keeping "dates" on the premises thrown into the bargain.

Abandonment by Postmaster Roland M. Baker of the postal quarters in the Federal Building for temporary headquarters on State street has provided for scores of "homeless" business men this gratuitous space for their transactions.

Within the short space of time since government activities ceased in the street floor of the main post-office site, shadowy figures in mysterious deals have already established their daily rendezvous in the empty corridors.

The still intact telephone pay stations have been raised to the dignity of private office lines, while the window desks fronting on Postoffice Square serve adequately as conference tables for discussion of matters of moment.

But these astute sidewalk financiers and human strategists are not the only occupants of the centre premises.

Here may also be seen the ubiquitous lonely, mentally lost in the pages of a back-number magazine, his body comforted by ample heat from surrounding radiators and his eye, if he deigns to lift it, amused by the merry-go-round of passing crowds in the financial area.

Then there are the flappers with their beaux enjoying a luncheon hour retreat within the comparative privacy of the corridors, shielded from the cutting winds which mark November days.

There is no intimation of an immediate end to these halcyon opportunities for loafer or sweethearts, nor can their use of the building be readily prevented.

Entrance to and exit from other Federal departments still functioning on upper floors of the building require passage through the street floor approaches to the elevators, and there are no inquisitive doorkeeps to halt incomers and demand credentials.

The first 11 months of the State's fiscal year witnessed a new high record in registration of motor vehicles, it was announced today.

1928 Trade Balance of U. S. $800,000,000

Washington, Nov. 30 (INS)—Uncle Sam will sell about $800,000,000 more to the world than he buys this year from other countries.

Statistics available at the Commerce department today showed that 1928 has been one of the most successful foreign trade years in the peace-time history of the country.

Estimates place this years sell approximately $4,985,000,000 and imports at about $4,100,000,000.

The gain in exports is more than $115,000,000 over last year, while the decrease in imports probably will run $100,000,000.

The favorable balance of trade indicated will be one of the largest on record. Exports this year will surpass those of 1924 by approximately $400,000,000, disclosing the tremendous strides in the country's foreign trade.

More than half of America's sales abroad this year will be of manufactured goods. Completely manufactured articles comprise about 46 per cent of the total, a gain of 4 per cent over last year. 38 per cent of the imports will be raw materials, and 46 per cent manufactured goods.

Europe continued to be this country's leading customer. Gains were shown for other North American countries, to Latin-American, Asia and Africa. Canada bought more goods from United States than any other country.

Present figures indicate a loss of about $409,000,000 in gold during the year.

SPEEDING BOYS WRECK CAR STOLEN IN MILTON

Brockton, Nov. 29—Stealing an automobile in Milton, two unidentified youths today dashed through the Blue Hills and into the center of this city to wreck their car on the lawns of a house on Edison st.

Scrambling out of the machine, which turned on its side in front of the residence of C. W. O. Lawson, the two scurried away before Lawson, who saw the accident, could get more than a flash description of them.

Wilkins Is Ready for Epic Hop

By SIR HUBERT WILKINS

Copyright, 1928, Universal Service

Deception Island, Antarctica, Nov. 30 (Via Whaler Hektoria and San Francisco Examiner radio station)—There was no turkey for us this thanksgiving. We looked for seal to celebrate with seal steaks, but the weather was too rough for them to come to the beach and we contended ourselves with pemmican.

High wind, low clouds and heavy snow gave way to a few hours of sunshine. But the weather continues unfavorable for aviation.

The wind continues strong and is breaking up the harbor ice. Loose ice has crowded around the Hektoria for a quarter of a mile, eliminating all possibility of transporting gasoline from the ship to the solid ice by motor boat.

Low storm clouds hang over Graham's Land, though signs promised clear weather today.

Our airplanes are standing on wheels on the runway we have cleared. Before we can start we must fit them with skis and fill the tanks with gasoline.

A catcher is coming into the harbor for coal. The weather the last few days has been too bad for them to shoot whales. The ship may serve to break way through the ice for the motorboat with supplies. If so, and if the weather is good, we will fly south today.

DRIVER OF MAIL TRUCK KILLED IN CRASH

On his first day on the early morning shift, to which he had asked to be transferred, Arthur Tatreau, 35, driver of a U. S. mail truck, found death awaiting him today at Boylston st. and Massachusetts ave.

Tatreau's truck and another auto came together and the postal driver was crushed under his toppling, skidding vehicle.

With Tatreau on the seat of the mail truck, against government regulations, was a sailor, Clifford C. Benedict of the Chelsea Naval hospital. He was thrown clear of the wreckage and was uninjured.

The other car in collision with the mail truck was driven by Arthur Hodges of Sawyer st., Roxbury and with him in the machine was Charles M. Trent of Washington st., Roxbury. Although their car turned over several times, both escaped injury.

The mail truck was being driven in Boylston st. toward the center of the city, while Hodges was driving down Massachusetts ave. toward Huntington ave. There was a terrific crash as the machines came together and both machines seemed to leap in the air and then roll over.

A pedestrian ran to the engine house of ladder 15 and engine 33 which is a stone's throw away. The firemen responded and raised the two machines to their wheels. Under the mail truck they found the unfortunate driver's body.

The sailor, Hodges and Trent were taken to station 16 and were questioned by Lieut. Gillis. They were not held.

Tatreau's home is at 934 Merritt st., South Weymouth. He leaves a widow and two children.

CAMBRIDGE BOY, 8, IS STRUCK DOWN BY AUTO

Thomas Wilson, eight, of Porter rd., North Cambridge, while playing on Madley st., near his home, was struck by an automobile operated by Marshal Barker of Orchard st., Cambridge, receiving possibly fatal injuries. The boy was taken to Cambridge Hospital, where he was found to be suffering from a possible fracture of the skull and internal injuries. His name was placed on the danger list.

HUB GIRLS TO PLAY AT COURT

London, Nov. 30 (AP)—Three American girl musicians, Marguerite Frances and Virginia Morgan of Boston, were commanded to play for Princess Beatrice, aunt of King George, at Kensington palace this evening.

The girls, in picturesque dresses copied from Goya paintings, entertained the princess and her guests for more than an hour with a program of old-time English, Spanish and French compositions chosen by the Princess, who is musical herself.

This is their third appearance before English royalty having played for the Duke of Connaught and Princess Mary in 1927.

BOSTON WOMAN CHALLENGES AL SMITH

Governor Alfred E. Smith of New York, erstwhile Democratic candidate for the presidency, may pay a return visit to Boston before Christmas, this time in the sweet cause of charity.

During his recent sojourn in the South, the chief executive of the Empire State softened the sting of defeat at the polls by overcoming the redoubtable Bobby Jones, national amateur golf champion.

Now he is called upon to come to Boston and defend his golf laurels. If the dynamic Governor is "there" with his plus fours and stick style, he must show Miss Henrietta MacKenzie, who doesn't come from Missouri, but whose feminine curiosity demands satisfaction.

From her Brighton home, Miss MacKenzie has sent a telegram to Governor Smith, challenging him to a match on any golf course in Boston at any time between now and Christmas.

Active in the women's organization of the Scarboro Golf Club at Franklin Park, and a champion of the links, Miss MacKenzie conceived the match with the New York Governor for the benefit of needy persons in Metropolitan Boston.

"It would please me greatly," she wired Governor Smith, "if you will accept this challenge to a golf match for the benefit of the charitable needs of the Salvation Army in its Christmas basket distribution.

"The people of Boston would welcome you on such a notable occasion, and those hungry ones you could help to feed would bless you eternally."

The recent victory of Governor Smith over Bobby Jones has been the subject of much editorial comment.

"I read about it in the newspapers," declared Miss MacKenzie, "If the governor accepts and I have every reason to believe that he will, a fair admission could be charged and the proceeds given over entirely to the Salvation Army. This would afford the Boston admirers of the New York governor another opportunity to reaffirm their admiration and esteem."

CUPID SMOOTHES THE WAY

MR. AND MRS. J. ALBERT SHEPARD

They approve the old adage that the course of true love does not run smooth until Cupid shows the way. After the father of the bride, who was 17-year-old Florence L. Harris, had been won over, one clergyman refused to marry the couple because of her youth. Eventually they were married by the Rev. Ernest Lyman in the Boston Street Church, Lynn.

HUB CLUES IN MURDER OF 2 IN COTTAGE

Search for murder clues in Boston began today, immediately after Worcester County authorities determined that a fractured skull caused the death of the woman whose body, together with that of a man, was found in a wooded part of Lunenburg, a short distance off the Mohawk Trail.

A hammer, iron bar or some similar weapon is believed to have been used by her murderer.

State Inspector Edward McCarthy of the Worcester county district attorney's staff came to Boston to begin with a clue provided by the label on the man's suit, which showed it was purchased from a tailor in Arlington sq.

An examination of the remains was made under McCarthy's direction by Medical Examiners Fred H. Baker of Worcester and D. Sidney Woodworth of Fitchburg in the receiving vault of the North cemetery, Lunenburg.

Tests were made for poison, on the supposition that the couple may have died in a suicide pact, but the result of the examination caused McCarthy to go ahead on the theory that a brutal double murder was committed.

The woman's skull was found to have been fractured in several places. The cause of the man's death is as yet undetermined and the medical examiners are comparing notes in an effort to reach a conclusion.

AUDIT BOOKS OF P. O. CASHIER SUICIDE

Chief Postal Inspector Park D. Colvin today detailed inspectors John W. Hunt and John Lucey to examine the books of John C. Harrington, assistant cashier of the Boston postal district, who committed suicide at the Burlington ave. postal station.

The audit, according to Chief Inspector Colvin, is made to satisfy officials and the relatives, but it is expected no discrepancies will be found.

According to Colvin, receipts from mailings and all salary disbursements passed through Harrington's hands.

The assistant cashier shot himself while in the wash room of the postal station. He is believed to have been temporarily deranged.

QUINCY HUNTER SHOT DEAD BY ACCIDENT

"Accidental death" was the police report today following an investigation of the killing of Arthur Kilpatrick, 13, of Eliot st., Quincy, while duck hunting with a companion, near the Victory plant at Squantum.

The friend with the victim was Charles Morton of Myrtle st., Atlantic, police stated. Reaching the shore, Morton got out of the boat, Kilpatrick following. As the latter stepped on land, he reached back for his gun, grasping it by the barrel and hauling it along. The trigger caught on a seat and the gun was discharged, the shot entering the boy's body.

COMPTROLLER M'CORMICK RESIGNS

James C. McCormick of Winchester, State comptroller and member of the commission on administration and finance, today tendered his resignation to Governor Fuller. His commission would have expired on December 13. He asks that his resignation be accepted tomorrow. He plans to return to commercial business.

McCormick has been in State service as comptroller since December, 1922, when the commission was organized by Homer Loring as chairman.

"Though much has been said of the inefficiency of political units from a business standpoint," the letter of resignation said, "I am glad to say also that from my experience in the past six years, the management of our State of Massachusetts is on a par with any business organization that I know of."

The letter disclosed that Governor Fuller had offered to reappoint McCormick for another term.

ANOTHER HOME 2 INJURED, BUT CAN'T 'KEEP UP WITH JONES'

It was his wife's attempt to "keep up with the Joneses" that wrecked his career, Dr. Hubert F. Biron, Tremont st. dentist, asserted today in defending Mrs. Ethel Biron's suit for divorce in Middlesex Probate Court.

According to the dentist, his attractive Amesbury school teacher wife was not fitted temperamentally to live and associate cheerfully with the circle of people suited to her middle-class station.

"She was a broiler," he declared. "She was living above her means—keeping up with the Joneses. She was governed entirely by her emotions and she could not understand that in married life, a couple must make certain adjustments to each other.

"She was always telling me how little effort toward adjustment I was making and how much everybody else was making.

Dr. Biron denied that drinking was the cause of his loss of practice and that it finally had compelled him to sell out at a loss.

FINE MUSKRAT TRAPPER AS POLLUTER OF WATER

Found guilty of polluting waters feeding Great Pond, drinking water reservoir for the town of Braintree, Holbrook and Randolph, Edward L. Jones, muskrat trapper, was fined $50 today in Quincy district court.

Police said Jones was seen throwing 200 dead muskrats into one of the tributary streams. A watch had been set after complaints were received regarding refuse in the water.

2 INJURED, BUT RESCUE FIVE IN BURNING AUTO

Kittery, Me., Nov. 30 (AP)—Two men, who were injured when their car skidded from the highway here today, rescued five other persons trapped in a burning automobile which left the road at the same spot a moment after the first accident.

The two men were Joseph Nickson and James Morrison of Scarborough, Ont., who were on their way to Brunswick, Me. Their machine skidded off the road and turned over, giving both men severe cuts and bruises.

While they were still in a dazed condition a second car skidded to the other side of the road and turned over twice. The occupants were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Parkhurst, Me., and Mrs. Joseph Parkinson of Brockton, Mass., and a young woman whose name could not be learned.

Their car caught fire and they were unable to escape until the two injured men ran across the road and helped them from the machine.

WHISKEY FLIERS HELD, CARGO CONFISCATED

Marshalltown, Ia., Nov. 30 (INS)—Leonard Carothers, one of the best known airpilots in this section, and Milo Hilton of Cleveland, were under arrest here today on a charge of transporting whiskey from Canada. Their bond was set at $4000 each. The men were arrested when their plane was forced down near Marshalltown. Whiskey valued at $4000 was confiscated.

CLEANING LOADED GUN MAY COST MAN HIS LIFE

Jeno Gillette, 18, of Crescent ave., South Braintree, was perhaps fatally wounded today when a revolver which he was cleaning discharged and sent a bullet crashing through his right eye.

Gillette was rushed to the Brockton City Hospital, where his name was placed on the dangerous list.

Dr. Conrad Lauds Modern Woman

YOU women who are suffering from a chronic attack of inferiority complex, and go around hating yourselves because you were not born men, just read what Dr. A. Z. Conrad has to say, and be glad you're alive. The doctor's 73d birthday has just been celebrated at a meeting of the Women's Club of the Park Street Church, of which Mrs. Irene Younkin is president.

Dr. Conrad declares: "The vital problems today may be represented by the religious, social, economic, educational and industrial life of America. In every one of these important interests the woman of today has a vast deal at stake, and is performing a service which in former years would have been impossible.

Mrs. Younkin

"She has exceptional qualifications through her intuitional ability and cultural attainments. Leadership in spiritual directions is of imperative necessity and it is not too much to say that the religious future of America rests largely with women, as religious institutions give them a clearer insight than men enjoy.

EQUAL TO ALL PROBLEMS

"There is no vital problem that women with educational opportunities need fear to attack and undertake to solve. The great factor in the recent election for the prohibition cause was attributable to the intelligent understanding, sincere conviction and aggressive activities of women in behalf of prohibition. She is today the promoter of every great cause, and a mighty force in politics and social life.

"Educational improvements cannot be ever estimated. It is the business of women's clubs to interest themselves in the selection of school committees, in study of the text books used, the discipline practiced, and all that pertains to the development of child life.

"In view of the fact that there is no department of activities today in economic directions that woman has not entered, her interests here are exceptionally great. Questions of wages, hours of labor, lines of occupation, are matters of immediate concern to women.

"The American woman has reached an independent status which all the women of the world envy. This is a matter for great satisfaction. It gives independence and self-respect, which will insure increasing self development."

Dr. Conrad thinks Boston, on the whole, the best place to live in on the American Continent, because, "it has a solid lot of sensible people." He is fond of saying, "There are two cities in the world—Boston and London."

YOUNG OPERA STAR WED IN SECRET TO VIOLINIST

New York, Nov. 30 (Universal)—A musical romance, which began four years ago at a studio gathering, has culminated in the marriage of Nanette Guilford, one of the youngest stars of the Metropolitan Opera Company, to Max Rosen, celebrated concert violinist.

Miss Guilford and Rosen were married a week ago in the municipal building, but news of the match did not become public until the secret leaked out at the Thanksgiving dinner table.

WEST DIGGING OUT FROM HEAVY SNOW

Denver, Nov. 30 (AP)—Trains of six snowbound Rocky Mountain states turned from Thanksgiving feasting today to dig out from under a heavy snow.

The almost continuous 24-hour fall of from one to two feet impaired transportation and communication systems, but caused remarkably little damage. Sheets of snow at Des Moines, Ia., were blamed for the death of Mrs. Jonathon Thiesse, 75, killed when two automobiles collided.

GERMANY INTERVENES IN RUHR LABOR TROUBLE

Berlin, Nov. 29—The government has decided upon direct intervention in the Ruhr Valley labor dispute and the cabinet has been called in most jointly with representatives of employers and the leading trades unions to appoint a kind of super arbitrator.

This super-arbitrator probably will be the minister of interior, Dr. Severing, and he probably will be endowed with power to enforce a settlement of the dispute so that plants in the affected area may be reopened as soon as possible.

Read this before you buy any Cough medicine

(Take 2½ minutes to learn these important facts)

"Will it relieve my cough quickly?"	REM will, or you can have your money back. The fact that not one customer in a thousand ever wanted it back tells the story.
"Is it harmless?"	REM is,—there's positively nothing in it to hurt you.
"Is it an experiment?"	REM is no experiment. 43 years of pharmaceutical experience are back of it.
"Does it soothe the irritation and soreness?"	That's one of the most noticable qualities of REM. It clings to the throat, starting relief quickly. Right away you'll notice a soothing, cooling effect.
"Does it 'cut the phlegm'?"	REM does. It clears the air-passages and thus makes it easier to breathe during the day and sleep soundly at night.
"Does it taste bad?"	Not REM! It's easy to take. Even children seldom have to be coaxed to take it.
"Is it economical?"	REM is. Simple coughs usually yield to a single bottle. Remedies that don't help are expensive at any price.
"Does it claim more than it can do?"	REM is no "cure-all". We frankly tell you it's no good for anything but a cough,—but how remarkably good it is for that!
"Are all cough medicines pretty much alike?"	Indeed they aren't! No other cough medicine on the market has the same formula as REM, and "it's the formula that counts!"

NOW you know why . . .

"it's REM FOR COUGHS"

George Should Have Gone Home With That Dirk

George Ryan shouldn't have gone to the football game when his mother was waiting for knife with which to carve the turkey. His gridiron attendance cost him two months in the House of Correction when he was arraigned in South Boston court today.

One month was for drunkenness; the other for carrying a dirk. He appealed.

Ryan told Judge Day his mama sent him to sister's house to get a large knife for turkey surgery. But on the way back he stopped to watch boys playing football—and, of course, when arrested the knife was found on him.

Police interposed a bit of testimony that Ryan's waving of the glistening blade disrupted the game and sent the boys scurrying to safety.

JUDGE ADVISES HARVEYS' COUNSEL TO SETTLE SUIT

Stating he believed a settlement might be effected, Judge Keane in Middlesex Probate Court today, requested counsel for Arthur Lewis Harvey of Orchard st., Somerville, and for Mrs. Ethyl M. Harvey of Forest st., Medford, to confer. Mrs. Harvey seeks to have her divorced husband adjudged in contempt for failure to pay alimony, while Harvey wants the divorce decree vacated. On Judge Keane's suggestion, Judge George M. Stearns, counsel for Harvey, went into conference.

'TOUGH WILLIE' IN ROTHSTEIN CASE HELD

By DAVID P. SENTNER.
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

New York, Nov. 30—"Tough Willie" McCabe, colorful young Broadway bookmaker and racketeer, today was held in $10,000 bail as a material witness in the fatal shooting of Arnold Rothstein, white light gambling king.

McCabe, who recently was exonerated of all connection with the crime, was ordered held by District Attorney Banton, on that "I can question him when I want to question him."

McCabe is scheduled to testify before the Grand Jury, which is hunting indictments in the slaying, next Monday. The bookmaker's counsel said that bail would be obtained immediately.

The hearing of George A. McManus, charged with the murder of Rothstein, today was postponed until next Wednesday by Judge Francis X. Moscoso on request of Banton. Banton said that the bearing of testimony in the case probably would be completed by the Grand Jury Monday, at which time indictment would be issued against McManus, John Doe and Richard Roe. Jane Doe, the mysterious woman who has figured in the testimony, has been dropped from the case, Banton said.

Meyer and Sam Boston, well-known gambling associates of Rothstein, also were ordered held in $10,000 bail by the district attorney. They probably will go before the Grand Jury at the same time Tom Cube appears.

DWIGHT L. MOODY HELD IN CHARGE OF BIGAMY

Augusta, Me., Nov. 30 (AP)—Dwight L. Moody of Annapolis, Md., was held in $2000 in municipal court today for a hearing December 14 on a fugitive from justice warrant.

He was arrested here Wednesday by request of sheriff M. F. Carter of Anne Arundel County, Md., and charged with bigamy. Maryland officials are expected to take him back to that State.

GIRL HURT IN FATAL AUTO CRASH IN CRITICAL PLIGHT

Miss Bernice Chmielinski, 17, daughter of Henry Chmielinski, editor of a South Boston newspaper, and James Graham, of Old Colony rd., Cheverus Hill, seriously injured in an automobile crash in which the girl's elder sister, Jeanette, was killed, were still in a critical condition today at Quincy City Hospital.

Louis Had a "Grand Idea," but It Came a Little Too Late

Louis P. Moulin of Western ave., Lynn, fined $10 in Lynn court today for attempted larceny; had a good idea, according to the police, but it had already been worked successfully by another man.

It was charged that Louis telephoned the Clinton Market, Lynn, Wednesday, and declaring himself to be "Johnny" Joyce, city councilor and restaurant proprietor, ordered two 18-pound turkeys prepared, adding he would send a man right down for them.

Unfortunately for Moulin, someone a short time before had "pulled" the same stunt. When the second order came police were notified and an officer was waiting.

ALLAN RYAN IS CUT OFF IN HIS FATHER'S WILL

estranged several years ago.

Ryan, who died Nov. 23, leaving an estate estimated at between $200,000,000 and $300,000,000, made two charitable bequests. One was a $50,000 gift to a New York branch of the Fathers of the Blessed Sacrament, the other was a trust fund sufficient to yield an income of $1,000 for maintaining the Thomas F. Ryan scholarship at the University of Virginia.

MONEY FOR SERVANTS

Ryan made numerous bequests to servants at his three residences in New York State and Virginia, and to employes who had helped in the administration of his vast interests.

PROVISIONS OF WILL

The testament, a document of 22 typewritten pages filed today, directed that the residuary estate be divided into 84 parts and distributed as follows:

Twelve part in trust for Glendenning J. Ryan, a son, who is to receive the income for life, and upon his death the principal is to be divided among his children, who, however, are not to receive the principal until they reach the age of 30 years.

Twelve parts to John B. Ryan, a son, with the same provision about his children.

Five parts are to be divided by the trustees among the children of his deceased son, Joseph J. Ryan.

Similar provision is made for the children of his deceased son, William K. Ryan.

Eight parts are to be divided among the children of Allan A. Ryan.

Twelve parts to his widow, Mary T. Ryan.

The trustees are directed to pay to Mrs. Ryan so much of the income of these 12 parts as is necessary to support her. The surplus is to be divided into forty-two equal parts.

Ryan stated that no other public bequests were made because he had contributed largely to religious, charitable and educational causes during his lifetime.

Herbert H. Vreeland, his business secretary, receives $50,000 for "unending loyalty and marked ability in handling the magnate's affairs."

PAINTINGS TO COLLEGE

To the University of Virginia go oil paintings of the founders of the Virginia company. The pictures are at the Ryan estate, Oak Hidge, in Virginia, the State of his birth.

Helen M. Seely, the financier's secretary, receives $5000 and life income from a $100,000 trust fund.

House servants of at least five years' service at Oak Hidge, Saltern, N. Y., and Fifth Avenue home of the millionaire were remembered with $1000 bequests, while other servants get $500 each.

Miss Cornelia Fortune, a cousin living in Nelson County, Va., and Henry Sendall, a chauffeur, each receive $2500.

The will established New York as Ryan's legal residence, a fact that is expected to yield the state many millions in taxes.

The financier provided that precious art objects in his residences should be sold by the trustees at face value and that the widow and sons should have the first right to purchase.

"I give and bequeath my pearl white shirt studs to my son, Allan A. Ryan," said the will.

Except for providing that that son was to have third choice in the event that members of the family sought to purchase the same art objects, this sentence was the only direct reference to the man who had several years ago went into bankruptcy after the famous Stutz Motors corner in Wall street.

The magnate's thoroughbred horses go to his son Glendenning.

Ryan's Feud With Son Began Ten Years Ago

New York, Nov. 30 (INS)—The will of Thomas Fortune Ryan, multimillionaire, which disinherits his son, Allan A., with a gift of pearl shirt studs, does not state why Allan was disinherited. It merely gives him the studs and thereafter does not mention his name, except in making bequests to his children.

But barking back ten years friends say there is little doubt why Allan Ryan, now bound for New York on the Majestic, was cut off.

In October, 1917, Allan A. Ryan's fiancee, Miss Mrs. Cornelius C. Cuyler, a few days after the death of the first Mrs. Ryan.

Allan Ryan, in his criticism of his father and gave a statement setting forth his views to the newspapers. He felt, he said, that his father should have waited a year at least before marrying again.

The estrangement began then and as far as is known father and son continued their feud through the years. When Allan went bankrupt in Wall Street as the result of his corner in Stutz. It was expected his father would offer financial aid.

He did not and Allan was expelled from the Stock Exchange. It is said, however, that the elder Ryan felt twice his respect for the fighting spirit displayed by his son in the spectacular financial battle.

SHIP SIX MILES OFF AS VESTRIS KEELED OVER

New York, Nov. 30 (AP)—An American tramp steamer was only six miles from the steamer Vestris when the latter was slowly keeling over on the afternoon of November 11 and was only 45 miles away two hours before the Vestris sank next day, it was testified at the federal hearing into the Vestris disaster today.

Despite its nearness to the scene, however, the tramp steamer did not know of the Vestris' need for assistance, as it carried no wireless.

George Frederick Harrison, first mate of the American tramp Montoso, was the witness who gave this information, and he was put on the stand to determine whether there should not be a law to force ships of such size, 5109 tons, to be equipped with wireless.

FULL GALE BLOWING.

Harrison said the nearest the Montoso, a ship of the New York-Porto Rico line came to the Vestris was at 2 o'clock on the afternoon of November 11. At that time the Montoso was drifting with a disabled steering gear and the Vestris, with engines shut down and water pouring into her hold, was tipping slowly over to starboard.

A full gale was blowing and apparently the lookout on the Montoso saw nothing in the position of the Vestris to call for information and the Vestris made no attempt to communicate by signals.

The Montoso drifted all night while repairs were being made and at noon next day was 45 miles from the place where the Vestris sank two hours later. The tramp got under way a few minutes later and continued its course, unaware that the Vestris had sent out an S O S and two hours earlier and that ships much further away were rushing to the rescue.

THIS SHIP HAD RADIO.

After the tramp's first mate was excused U. S. Atty. Tuttle, who is conducting the inquiry, said that, according to wireless reports submitted by Capt. Overstreet of the battleship Wyoming, one of the rescue vessels, another ship, the Italian Giorgio Orlson, was even nearer than the Montoso to the Vestris at the time of the disaster call.

It was shown that the Giorgio Orlson, which did carry wireless, was only 25 miles from the Vestris at 10 o'clock, the morning of November 11, picked up the S O S and went to the rescue. The first position given by the Vestris was wrong, however, and the Giorgio Orlson never did locate the true position of the sinking ship.

Washington, Nov. 30 (INS)—Senator Jones (R.) of Washington, chairman of the commerce committee, announced today he would introduce a resolution next week for a complete investigation of the sinking of the liner Vestris.

HUB MUSEUM MAY SUE ART SWINDLERS

Suit to recover the large purchase price in the modern case will com forty correspondence took in storage at the Asiatic Art Museum may be brought against the museum accord ing to the one-time Boston sculptor who created it.

This is the newest development in the swindle that has rocked the art world since Alceo Lossena, Roman sculptor, filed charges in Rome for thirty-one fake Etruscan terra fraudulently to American museums and wealthy collectors.

"Confidential information regarding the sale of the Satrini sarcophagus is now on its way to Rome from our agent in Rome," Associate Director Charles Hawes said today.

"It will depend on how strong our case is as to what steps we shall take in this matter. The beauty of the piece recommends it for exhibition even if created by a modern sculptor for it was the subject of favorable comment from almost every noted expert who saw it during the three years it was exhibited, before it came under fire of some who declared it a fraud."

Similar frauds sold to the Cleveland Art Museum were purchased more recently than the disputed Satrini tomb, he added, and their cases may be easier to prosecute than the Boston one.

NAB 11 CUSTOMS MEN IN RUM CONSPIRACY

Detroit, Nov. 30 (AP)—Eleven customs border patrol inspectors were arrested today by special agents on charges involving conspiracy to assist in smuggling liquor into the United States and accepting bribes from bootleggers.

The arrests, customs officials said, were the result of a sweeping investigation of eight months by border cover agents into alleged graft and corruption among inspectors in the Detroit area. Arrest of additional inspectors on similar charges is expected.

SUSPEND TRADING IN MARCONI OF CANADA

New York, Nov. 30 (INS)—Trading in Marconi Wireless of Canada on the curb market was suspended today, following a precipitate 11-point drop in the stock to 16½ in a deluge of selling orders.

Traders in the stock threw their shares overboard when a statement of Sir Joseph Flavelle, chairman of the board, from Toronto, placing the earnings for this year at only 2 cents a share, reached the financial district. Sir Joseph warned that the stock was selling too high.

"CAMBRIDGE JEWELER" IS HELD AS SAFE-CRACKER

Brockton, Nov. 30 (AP)—John Russell, 38, one of four men surprised in the act of breaking a safe in a bakery here yesterday, was held in $22,000 bonds for the grand jury in district court today. Russell said he was a jeweler and lived in Cambridge.

Police there said the man was unknown at the address he gave. His three companions in the attempted break escaped.

6 HUNTERS ARE KILLED IN MAINE DURING SEASON

Augusta, Me., Nov. 30 (AP)—Six hunting fatalities, the smallest number in Maine in recent years, had been recorded today as the big game season went into its final day. In all but two counties the season closes tonight.

Three persons were shot in mistake for a deer and three died by the accidental discharge of their own guns. The death toll last year was 14. Five men drowned while on their way to their camp.

Excellent hunting conditions and a plentiful supply of game during the season was reported today by Willis E. Parsons, commissioner of inland fisheries and game.

"The general report of deer brought out by automobile is that they are steadily on the increase," Commissioner Parsons said. "The bridge have increased over last year and there has been no report of their wanton slaughter by hunters. More hunters have come into Maine this year than ever before."

Inventor and Wife Are Happy as 'Next Door Neighbors'

New York, Nov. 30 (AP)—Dr. Moritz Stoehr, professor of bacteriology, whose avocation is fussing with machinery and inventing things at home and his wife, Hedwig Meuth, concert pianist, have discovered the way to happy marriage, for themselves at least.

For four years they have lived next door to each other. Perhaps that is why Dr. Stoehr's study and he never could find his apparatus.

U. S. AND CANADA AGREE ON TARIFFS

Geneva, Nov. 30 (AP)—American and Canadian methods of levying customs duties have caused some difficulty at the conference meeting here to facilitate commerce in economic statistics. The United States bases its calculations on production costs only. Most other States add transport charges. The United States delegation would not consent to change the system so compile data elsewhere. A special sub-committee met today and the United States and Canada agreed in principle to supply gross estimates based on an index system.

Sir John Murray Dies

London, Nov. 30 (AP)—Sir John Murray, 77, head of the noted publishing firm, died today after a long illness.

BALDWIN TAKES UP NAVY CURB PROBLEM

London, Nov. 30 (AP)—Premier Baldwin and government are considering what steps can be taken to agreement on further limitation of naval armaments.

The Premier was asked in the House of Commons by Sir Frederick Hall whether the government would consider inviting the French and American governments to participate in a conference.

In reply the Premier said his government was considering the steps that could be taken for further naval limitations. He added:

"I doubt whether the specific expedient proposed by my honorable and gallant friend would be likely to attain the object which he evidently has in view."

HACKS BRITTEN PLAN

The proposal of Representative Britten that the naval affairs committee of the United States House of Representatives and a delegation from the House of Commons meet to discuss naval limitation was supported editorially today by the Liberal Daily News. The paper remarked that the concreesman might have broken a statutory law of the United States in that he did not act through diplomatic channels and said:

"His real crime is that he has publicly administered to two governments, bursting with etiquette, a severe dose of common sense. Intelligent persons, anxious that Anglo-American relations shall make a fresh start toward organized goodwill, will not care a row of buttons whether Mr. Britten has broken the law or acted outside the rules of international etiquette.

CAUTIOUS BALDWIN.

"The important thing is that he brought to a focus Lord Lee's recent proposal on similar lines and Premier Baldwin's regret at the infrequency of personal contacts between official representatives of the two nations.

"It may not be etiquette for Mr. Baldwin to reply officially to Mr. Britten, but if he neglects to devise a method by which he can express readiness to attend a statesmen's meeting he will have missed a priceless opportunity."

I'm proud of our likable, human organization.

On a mere dollar basis the W. T. Grant Company which I founded in 1906 has been a great success.

It has been a success in ways greater than mere dollars, however. It has brought together one of the finest groups of men and women in business today.

Our saleswomen are a high grade, happy lot of girls working in respectable surroundings.

Our manufacturers and bankers say we play the game of business straight.

Our landlords are our friends

And among our millions of customers, Grant Stores are Known for Values.

Surely I may be justified in a pride over a record like that.

NABS MAN WHO DARES DEATH IN 'SQUIRREL LEAP'

The first week of Reserve Officer Philip Gallo's tour as a brand new policeman in Revere wasn't so exciting—but today a man did a flying squirrel stunt 40 feet above the street—and Gallo went back to his beat wishful for more excitement.

The reserve officer had been on the beat only a couple of hours today when on Laurel ave. he heard a shrill scream nearby. Looking up he saw a man poised on the rail of a [illegible] porch.

"Jump, jumper," the man cried. "Jump. There's a fellow in the house who is going to get you. He's got a gun and is mighty mad."

And then—before the startled reserve man could reply—the fugitive from the veranda rail took off from a crouch, as in an owl assumes his first soaring flight, and soared through the air.

Across the gap separating the two from the next he soared, bumped the veranda railing, fell, and caught the rail with his hands. In this position, hanging suspended 30 feet above the ground he kicked and struggled until he had worked one leg up over the railing and managed to work it with his body.

Then Gallo raced upstairs and met with the man on the second floor and, with him and took him to the next door. There the escaped prisoner, a lodger of boarding house, who had last night beneath [illegible] had been kept [illegible] by a shooting.

STARTS DECORATIONS ON NEWSBOYS' BUILDING

Work was begun today by Sidney W. Kirk on a series of decorative murals and panels in the new building of the Harvey E. Fong Foundation, Inc., Tremont st., Boston. The work will portray a keynote of the organization's efforts to bridge the gap between the street life of the newsboy and his future responsibilities as a citizen.

Part of these paintings, it was announced, will be completed in time for a public viewing on December 8, the date of the official opening of the building.

Trails 'Pirate Cavalier' to Boston Garden Dance

The story of how Miss Josephine Krebs, who conducts a costume store on Washington st., played detective and recovered three costumes, was told in Municipal court today when three Somerville youths were found guilty of larceny and placed on six months' probation.

Several weeks ago, according to testimony, they went to the store and hired costumes of a pirate, a cavalier and a hussar. They failed to return them and Miss Krebs notified the police.

The other night a big costume ball was held in the new Boston Garden, and in the belief that the adventurous trio might attend, Miss Krebs was on hand. Sure enough, in the grand march she recognized "pirate, cavalier and hussar," and called a policeman. The youths gave their names as Angelo Carcieta, Oxford st., and Michael Vicanio and Richard Hunt of Park st., all of Somerville.

LIFE A FAILURE, IRA REMSEN KILLS SELF

Carmel, Cal., Nov. 30 (AP)—Ira Remsen, 51, painter and playwright, committed himself a "successful failure" by shooting himself to death here today because of despondency over the rejection of his play, "Hide Out," by New York producers.

The body was found encircled by his palette and manuscripts, by a Japanese dog guest, who was found a month ago when keepers failed to answer his doorbell ring. It had sent himself to [illegible] he began acting on [illegible] the manuscript in his will, which left his $30 estate to his friend, Charles M. Remsen of New York city, with whom his widowed mother lives.

Friends said Remsen called himself a "successful failure" because he had painted pictures praised by noted critics and had written plays produced by amateur groups, but had never been able to produce more than a meager income.

Remsen was the son of the late Dr. Ira Remsen, former president of Johns Hopkins university.

His wife, Mrs. Helen Yoder Remsen, obtained a divorce two years ago, alleging that "trouble spoiled their happiness." Among her accusations was one that Remsen had the habit of appearing at social functions in overalls.

TO MAKE SOUND FILM OF 'WHITE COLLARS'

LOUELLA O. PARSONS

Los Angeles, Nov. 30—Ann Nichols' play, "White Collars," will be modernized, talkiefied and otherwise completely transferred to the screen by Will Le Mills. What is more fitting than to choose a stage play for Mr. De Mille's first Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer talkie? Bill is right at home making talkies, for he has had many years experience as a director and playwright on the stage and the sound pictures aren't so very different are they?

Mr. De Mille's favorite scenario writer, Clara Beranger—and incidentally, his wife in private life—has been retained hard to write the adaptation and dialogue of "White Collars." Clara, too, has had experience writing for the stage.

The cast, so far, is going only mentioned in passing, but just between you and me I wouldn't be greatly surprised if Phyllis Haver, who shortly joins the M-G-M clan, played the leading feminine role.

Such experts as Lionel Barrymore, Lowell Sherman, King Vidor and others on the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer lot now have seen the tests of Marion Davies. Lilkie, pronounced it exceptionally good. Mr. Sherman said she is also truly natural, that her comedy is so spontaneous, that one would be something new for the talkies.

Maiden arrived work today on "The Rise to Luck Girl," the Lew musical comedy to be made by M-G-M. The picture went into production without a script. There were suggestions made, and pictures which seemed to fit the scenes, but no one knew what was going to happen next. Carmelita Geraghty was one of the important parts, and so has George K. Arthur.

Pete Morin who has been in several of Miss Davies' pictures, will play the photoplay of the stage in "The Love O'Lucky Girl." Pete is always good for a laugh.

Philip Strange, who is playing in "The Spider Web" and doing very well, is very eager to play the leading role in "The Last of Mrs. Cheyney." Mr. Strange has a fine voice and personality to attract the attention of some Hollywood director. Yes, of course, when Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer gets ready to make their decision as to the new Lawrence Applegate and Lenore Ulric will not be considered for months. Incidentally, Lenore Ulric is now Mrs. Applegate, and Mr. Applegate is the producer of "Lulu Belle."

It looks as if Will Rogers will appear in the talkies. Several companies are after him. Will Rogers' voice is said to be perfect for the talkies. Will is now in Washington, D. C., but will return to Hollywood in January to make his picture.

Ben Lyon and Bebe Daniels will be married in Yuma, Ariz., on December 15. Ben will then bring his bride to Hollywood, where they will live in the Lyon home on Whitley Heights. Ben has been working steadily in pictures since he arrived in Hollywood, and Bebe has been offered several contracts, but has refused them all, preferring to wait until Ben's contract with Paramount expires.

Lilyan Tashman is to be starred in a picture to be made by Fox. Lilyan has been in pictures for a long time, but has never had the opportunity to show her real ability. Lilyan is a clever actress, and I am glad she is to be given a chance.

Lilyan's husband, Edmund Lowe, is also to be starred in a picture to be made by Fox. Eddie has been in pictures for a long time, and has been very successful in his work.

Ruth Taylor, who has been in several of Miss Davies' pictures, will play the photoplay of the stage in "The Love O'Lucky Girl." Ruth is always good for a laugh.

BOY SLAYER IS HAPPY AFTER CONFESSION

Northcott Special Car, en route to Los Angeles Nov 30 (AP)—Deputy District Attorney Earle Redwine of Lawrence County announced today that Kelly Stewart North and made a complete confession of the slaying of an unidentified Mexican youth on the Northcott ranch near Rialto.

Northcott was said to have told Redwine that Stewart Clark, his 15-year-old nephew, had shot and killed the Mexican in the garage on the ranch and buried the body in Devil's Gulch, where he and Clark went next morning to dig a well.

Northcott broke down last night and, weeping bitterly, said he was trying to make up for the terrible mistake he had made in confessing.

A warrant was issued for his arrest on a charge of murder, and under the terms of extradition papers signed by Governor Young of California, he will be taken back to California as soon as the necessary legal formalities can be completed.

Northcott was indicted by the grand jury here last week in connection with the slaying of Rafael Navarro, 19-year-old Mexican youth, whose body was found in a well on the Northcott ranch.

Deputy Sheriffs Walter Hughes of Los Angeles and Ernest Wilson of Redlands left Los Angeles early today for Needles and Joseph Wren of Pomona. He was said to have a special car, but never would return, but that the Winslow boys would be found safe.

SAYS BOYS WERE LURED.

Clark, Northcott's principal accuser, told the sheriffs that at the outset of the investigation that Guy and the two Winslow boys were lured to the Northcott ranch, where they were mistreated and slain.

Officers said Northcott voiced an inclination to "take all the blame." In the past he has said to have expressed fear over the fate of Mrs. Northcott, who he generally refers to as "my dear little mother." Officers have attempted also to get him to admit that Mrs. Northcott is not his mother.

Young Clark told investigators Mrs. Northcott said her son forced him to help guard the slaying of one of the boys. Bones and bits of clothing uncovered at the ranch were cremated in a fire and Deputy Sheriff Ben used to destroy the bodies of the victims.

HUPP-CHANDLER DEAL CLOSED

Detroit, Nov. 30 (AP)—Samuel Reed, president of the Chandler-Cleveland Motor Corporation, announced that negotiations for control of the Chandler company by the Hupp Motor Car Corp. were concluded today.

Speaking for himself and his associates in the deal, Fred C. Chandler, president, Reed said the deal had been closed and arrangements made for the transfer of Chandler-Cleveland to Hupp.

No statement was issued as to Hupp plans for the Cleveland plants at this time.

OPERA STARS IN NEW TRIUMPH AT COLONIAL

By MOSES SMITH

In presenting Puccini's "Marital" at the Colonial last night the American Opera Co. had a chance every moment to bear Debussy nobly aside than the "Butterfly" of the opening night, "Bohème" of the following evening or the exquisite "Carmen" and "Marriage of Figaro" of Wednesday.

First of all, the English text is a trifle more than a little to "Martha," which has to do with an English house and English servants even more, than the libretto written by A. Colman and set to music by a German with French accents. The general presentation by the Society tends to be ludicrous, it is rather a misrepresentation.

Furthermore, if a opera is not "grand" at all; it is more nearly of the spirit of light opera, almost of musical comedy. At least, that is the way these Americans present it, and we are entirely in accord with their conception. The music is light and tuneful, the book is light and sentimental. Introduce some healthy comedy into the action, even a little horse-play so long as it is not cheap, and the production is made delightful. Otherwise it becomes a bore.

The singing was very good last night, especial interest must be paid to the management of the chorus, which sang very well, in addition. The staging of the principals was for the most part musical, not distinguished so long as we can get such well balanced productions we are not especially interested to "distinguished" singing. But especial mention might be made of Harold Hansen, singing the role of Lionel, whose excellent tenor voice would be a credit to the singers of several occasions with a company less eager for uninterrupted action.

By exception, the conductor was Jefrey Harris, who directed the various forces with musicianship and authority.

MAINE HUNTER IS KILLED BY OWN GUN

North Haven, Me., Nov. 30 (AP)—Lawrence Hopkins, 21 of this town was killed when his own gun was discharged accidentally.

Hopkins and a companion drove their automobile to the hunting grounds, near here and as Hopkins reached into the car to get both guns one was discharged. The youth died 20 minutes later.

TWO KILLED AS PLANE HITS BALLOON CABL

Lisbon, Portugal, Nov. 30 (AP)—A military plane today collided with a cable attached to a captive balloon at Alhoff aerodrome. The plane crashed, killing Maj. Santos Leite and Capt. Salgueiro Valente.

The collision cut the cable and released the balloon, but the basket was not occupied. The empty balloon sailed away over the capital, soaring to a great height.

DIPPY DOODLE WINS HEARTS OF KIDDIES

Thanksgiving will not be forgotten soon by the 125 juvenile patients of the Children's Hospital on Longwood ave., for yesterday they were treated to an annual treat which brought to many little faces smiles of forgetfulness and gladness.

A day which might have been the low spot of the year for them, one of sadness and untold grief, took on a new hue and Dippy Doodle, the famous C. F. Daley clown, walked in unannounced and performed his innumerable tricks to a delighted and appreciative audience.

DIPPY DOODLE ARRIVES

Dippie Doodle knows how to bring gladness to young hearts and more especially does he know how to make crippled little boys and girls tucked away from their families in a great hospital forget their pain. Within a few minutes after his arrival, both patients and nurses were laughing in a manner that will not soon be forgotten.

Little patients who had been propped up in beds for weeks, little boys and girls encased in plaster of Paris casts and all manner of surgical and medical contrivances soon forgot their cares and joined in the hilarious mirth provoked by Dippie Doodle and his dog Pogo.

OH BOY THE TOYS

After Dippie and Pogo had performed the miracle of healing on all the children, Dippie, with the dog attending, set to and called him pet names. There were pails of candy, and a rousing old-fashioned ball followed, apart from some unusual and peculiar stunts, Dippie acts in which Dippie manipulated six balls at once by means of his nose and dozens and dozens of large resounding antics.

The big thrill occurred when Dippie Doodle appeared with a huge bag full of toys from Hoyt's Santa Claus land. The toys were given out to each and every patient in the hospital. Dippie's toy bag contained erector sets, airplanes that fly, railroad trains, toy saxophones, harmonicas, trumpets, toy guns, sets of dishes, mama dolls, toy rabbits, dogs and elephants.

MR. BOSTON ran right into Damon Runyon at Dick Finnegan's wedding breakfast.

"Why the big frown?" queried the famous sports writer.

"Broadway's greatest moonlight golfer in person," said Mr. Boston sagaciously. [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible]

"OF course you're going to take in the Maloney-Risko jam," went on Mr. Boston.

"I wouldn't miss that one," replied Runyon. "It should be a great fight. I notice that the odds have Risko a 10 to 7 favorite, but it isn't a cinch he will win. Maloney has a swell chance to come through with a victory in this fight.

"Maloney has been going along very well, while Risko wasn't any too hot in his New York bout with Roberto Roberti. George Godfrey had previously given Risko quite a hammering around the hole.

"Maloney is a first-class fighter when he has his mind on his business and they tell me he is in razor edge condition right now.

"Sharkey is one of the few heavyweights who has anything on Shamus. It is a question of where Sharkey has the kind of boxing style that bothers his home town rival.

"Risko hasn't got the boxing class of Sharkey and isn't a terrific puncher. I'm not picking any winner, but don't be surprised if Maloney should shoot through with a victory.

"As used Jack Delaney, I felt Jim was a sure thing to win and he justified my faith in him. In the Risko bout, I say he has a big chance."

"WHAT about Dempsey?" pressed Mr. Boston.

"He's coming back sure," was the quick response. "He has all the money he needs, but the fighting urge is still in his blood. What a chance for Tex would be if he could manage to draw a fellow like Tom Heeney as an opponent. The snow would be over in a couple of rounds.

[illegible]

"The [illegible] Sharkey and myself are the only [illegible] Jack Dempsey will recognize as being [illegible] Jack Dempsey will [illegible]

"It won't be because Tunney will need the money he will get out of the bout. I'm sure he'd love to will want to prove he is still the greatest heavyweight champion [illegible]

"CAN you imagine some tough young fellow like Sharkey Griffith or Paulino smashing his way to the front and then Polly asking Dempsey's consent [illegible] Do you think you could lick that fellow Gene?' [illegible] and to prove he was still as great a fighter as he was when he and Polly got married.

"YOU know, Mr. Boston, fighters only quit when they are unable to [illegible] Jack Dempsey is the exception, and I don't think Tunney [illegible]

"Tunney would love to stage a comeback," asserted Mr. Boston.

"I wouldn't [illegible]," said Runyon.

"Oh I wouldn't poke Bill any," replied Mr. Boston.

"I must go [illegible] Dan Finnegan on the fine girl who has consented to [illegible] Runyon. "And remember what I told [illegible]

London—One of the most interesting exhibits at Westminster is a machine that keeps tab on workmen and tells whether or not they loaf during the absence of the boss.

Imagine what a tough time the machine would have trying to keep track of a couple of plumbers.

The static would be terrible.

Pretty soon they'll have machines to kick a fellow every time he stops to mop his brow.

BOOK REVIEW

We reproduce herewith just one of the many fascinating illustrations that make "Ping Pong and How to Play It" one of the most popular books of the month. This grip is called "The Penholder Grip," which, once mastered, is about as neat a grip as you ever saw.

A bachelor is a bozo who prefers a twin six to twins.

A radio wag gave the solution to the farm problem last night. He suggested that all the farmers move into the city.

LONDON (AP)—Liquor bars are being installed in West End homes of society folk.

"And then," sniffs Lew Casey, "there's the fellow who had his coat sleeve buttons cut off because they hurt his nose."

And the lunch slips off your knee.

YOU CAN BREAK THE LAXATIVE HABIT

This constant taking of laxatives, this dragging of the bowels and the inevitable weakening of the muscles isn't necessary. It can be stopped—stopped effectively—stopped with Thalax.

Thalax brings prompt relief from constipation. But it does so without forming the habit of constantly dosing to keep the bowels working. Instead, Thalax aims to break the medicine taking habit. For it gradually strengthens the bowel muscles and restores their natural action. With the result that after a reasonable length of time, you should need no more medicine, except in rare emergencies.

If you suffer from constipation do at least try Thalax. A tablet or two at night will bring the desired relief in the morning—without griping or distress. Continue Thalax at intervals until your movements become normal, then you won't need to continue taking it, for the improved condition will last.

Thalax is found at leading druggists. Bottle of 30 tablets 35 cents. If your druggist hasn't it in stock, send direct to R. A. Hughes Company, Boston, Mass.

The Rhyming Optimist

JOY is my friend, and well I know how swift, how sweet the hours
when my scents all the winds that blow, when joy paints all the flowers.
Most sought, most treasured everywhere for joy I voyage, in all men's peace.

Yet, as a path from light to shade may sometimes swiftly pass and lead the traveler, dismayed, through jungle or morass, so on life's road we still must turn from joys that bless to griefs that burn.

But sorrow, too, may be a friend although in dark disguise, and, strangely, sometimes pain can lend fresh strength to tear-dimmed eyes can show, more truthfully than mirth, the real things and the false of earth.

This Wicked World

And the Narrow Minded Man Who Planned a HORSE'S H[illegible]

Case of the Essex County woman who has run afoul of the Postal authorities, because of their belief that there is something wicked in her manner of acquiring wealth, stirs memories of the "slickers" who operated more than a generation ago from the back room of a drug store in Augusta, Maine.

For men who were active long before the word "racketeer" was coined, these small town boys—most of them found their way to the Big Town in later life—were undeniably "smart." They were lucky, too, in that their operations antedated the using-the-mails-to-defraud laws.

One of the advertisements the Kennebec smarties published in rural weeklies advised the reader to "send one dollar and learn how to keep your pump from freezing.

If you bit at that one you received a printed answer, advising you to "bring it into the house and set it by the kitchen fire." Or perhaps, you rose to the advertisement which promised a "steel engraving of the Father of His Country for only 10 cents. The dime brought you a two cent postage stamp.

The Lynn lady is charged by the Government with advertising formulas for growing hair, rectifying crosseyes or crooked noses, and otherwise beautifying the features.

A New Hampshire farmer, much interested but nobody's fool, wrote in about his "scalp trouble" and asked for the "recipe for growing hair." Right back came diagnosis and instructions.

According to the postal inspectors, the sample lock of hair the New Hampshire man sent to Lynn was cut from the tail of one of his horses.

The "miracle woman," who owns one brick block, would have more if she had stuck to the sale of her "ten magic words," for quelling family disputes or quieting crying babes. The words are—you get them here for nothing: "I will to magnetize the spirit of peace into you."

"There's one born every minute" was said one hundred years ago.

THAT was before we knew about mass production.

A Contrast in Faces

Can Man Be Related to His Humble Animal Friends?

VISCOUNTESS CURZON AND "MR. GUPPY"

This charming lady, married to a descendant of old Levi Leiter, who had the big department store in Chicago long ago, chooses to be photographed with her little dog, named "Mr. Guppy."

"Mr. Guppy" lives in great comfort, surrounded by footmen, maids, valets. No chicken is too tender for him.

And let the atheist consider this:

How could you possibly persuade "Mr. Guppy" that what he has in the way of luxury he owes to old Levi Leiter, who ran the store in Chicago half a century ago?

He would say: "I don't believe in any such person. I get everything that I have from this lovely Lady Curzon."

It is hard for men or dogs to realize whence come their blessings, especially if they are well fed, free from worry.

This picture is printed because it presents an interesting contrast in faces, both, according to scientists, "products of evolution."

The little dog came up, climbing the tree of evolution from the original spark of life in the ocean.

And the lovely lady came up the same tree, but on a different branch, reaching a higher altitude.

It is hard for us to believe that there can be hardly any possible relationship between animals and men. But science says YES. And this little dog has a pleasant face.

If man must be related to some animal, he would rather be related to "Mr. Guppy" than to the shaggy chimpanzee, with dreadfully long upper lip, skinny arms and short legs.

This is a nice picture, but we should like better a picture of the same lady with a small human baby in place of the cheerful "Mr. Guppy."

Never Ask a Surgeon to Carve

DRAWN BY COLLIER

NEW YORK, Nov. 30—Thoughts while strolling: Curb loafers who take sailor togs at their waisthands, deep drags at cigarettes and await the "breaks." Mrs. Park Benjamin, the society lady, who "escapes" the night clubs. Those pit brown maids with pastel-on eyes [illegible] Eddie Peabody another West Coast jazz king.

[illegible] but the appeal is not so much its liquor as its quaint, foreign atmosphere. It's a lovely virtue and every one should have some of it around the house. It's the Forgivers I can't stand.

There's nothing snootier on earth than the average Forgiver. All the cuteness and conceit in human nature leap to the surface when presented with an opportunity to Forgive.

Most of us, of course, regard Forgiveness as one of our inalienable prerogatives. In fact, one of the chief inducements offered to prospective saints is the chance of forgiving sinners. What's the use of being Good if you can't high-hat the Bad?

It never occurs to us that we may not be qualified and appointed to sit in judgment on the rest of humanity. Nor can we grasp the fact that the other fellow's virtues are his own affairs. But when exercising the Sacred Function of Forgiveness we go the dirty limit—and scorn scorners.

Nor is Forgiveness [illegible] fering to our conceit. As a cover-up [illegible] for [illegible] it looks all right. For example that old feud of yours with John Henry Jones.

For years you've considered John Henry a stupid, shameful, corrupt pole, dissolute, scurvy son of a [illegible] cook. And have yearned to tell him so. With gestures. But there are disadvantages to such displays of frankness. One cannot talk up publicly to a gentleman, pour violent epithets upon him, poke him in the brisket and then go merrily on one's way. One is apt, rather, to end in [illegible] disagreeable in a more or less wounded condition. Which unpleasantly cramps one's style.

But don't be discouraged because of that. You can still put it over on John Henry without the slightest risk to your health if you'll only forgive him. At last you'll have a chance to give him a piece of your mind—a piece of real good. For how can a guy set up when he is in the process of being forgiven. You can make him feel like 57 varieties of a dirty dog and he's got to take it.

That's why Forgivers make me sick. No. It's always they're piping up and down in the name of God about how [illegible] and [illegible] Make you feel like a cad. Make you feel like a worm. Make you feel like a [illegible] Forgiveness is a fine thing. When it comes to Mean Forgiveness—mean, resilient, seemingly immortal—fail.

LISTEN, WORLD!

By ELSIE ROBINSON

NOTHING makes me madder than to be forgiven.

I have nothing against forgiveness itself. It's a lovely virtue and every one should have some of it around the house. It's the Forgivers I can't stand.

Word Sleuths

by Herbert Kaufman

There's more color concentrated in a drop of printer's ink than in a pound of coal tar.

The man who found the dictionary "a very interesting book, but somewhat lacking in plot," had no conception of the pageantry and romance that may be crowded into single words.

Language isn't merely a batch of verbal tags to identify things, places, emotions and qualities, but a series of milestones as well, marking the road of evolutionary experience.

Full length racial portraits may even be painted with a dozen alphabetical strokes.

Arrogant, drably defined as "exorbitant claims to rank or estimation" by the lexicographer, reveals a complete national phase to the historian.

It derives from the inhabitants of Aragon, in northern Spain, whose truculent independence not only forbade deference to royalty, but actually compelled early monarchs to admit personal inferiority to their own subjects, each of whom esteemed himself better born than a king.

Of all peoples the Spanish are traditionally the most independent.

Since Hector's puphood they have enjoyed unusual liberty of speech and action. So much of their country is sterile and forbidding that the population would have migrated long ago except for guarantees of privileges not enjoyed in any other realm.

Philology, which sucks such marrow out of time's bones, is forever trailing the tools of speech to their origin.

It traces "blackmail" back to the Scotch border, where a fractional iron coin—maille noir (meaning black mill)—became a head-tax paid annually by the Normans for immunity from the raiding bands that regularly swept down from Caledonia.

Captain Boycott and Etienne Silhouette are biographically interred in common vocabulary. Mr. Webster will tell you why.

His omniscient volume holds the distilled chronicles of humankind—all conquests and discovery—all adventure and achievement march in tight procession across its pages. The pass keys to man's total stores of knowledge are there.

Word sleuths are never at a loss what to do with spare time.

National Policies of the Hearst Papers

1. An agreement of English-speaking peoples to preserve peace among themselves and promote the peace of the world.
2. A constitutional amendment to provide for the election of United States Senators in numbers proportionate to the population of each State, but no State to have less than two Senators. A reapportionment of Congressional representation immediately after every census, or in case of the failure of Congress so to act, to make the apportionment automatic at the end of the first Congressional session, the proportion of population for each representative in each case to be that of the existing Congress.
3. A separate Department of the Army, of the Navy and of the Air Forces, all united under a Secretary of National Defense.
4. Federal action to the limit of Federal Government powers to abolish illiteracy among the people of the United States, and the creation of a Secretary of Education.
5. Necessary measures to secure the election of Congress in November and its installation on the 1st of January following, and the inauguration of a President on the 1st of January immediately following his election in November.

PRETTY POLLY

By Nell Brinkley

She Cultivates a Lisp and a Baby-Doll Stare

Verses by

Carolyn Wells

POLLY went to the play one night, and saw an actress there.
With an ingenue expression and a doll-like baby stare
Polly thought, "Now, there's my model, I am sure that I should be Natural and unaffected, such a role would just suit me."

NEXT night, dressed very simply, to a dance went Pretty Poll.
She was transformed completely,—changed to a baby doll
She stared at men around her, shook her blue-ribboned head,
And to dance invitations, "Yeth, thir," she simpering, said.

"You look brave, strong and silent,—I'll trust myself to you."

"NINNY!" he thought. I wonder! Are Americans like this?
I looked for something stunning, not just a schoolroom miss!"
He danced in stony silence. As the music stopped he spied
A tall and stately beauty, and he fled from Polly's side.

THE WAY OF A HEALTHFUL DAY

A morning dish of ALL-BRAN prevents constipation

Clear eyes. Fresh complexions. Buoyant spirits. They all come when the right kind of food is eaten. One of the main things that our modern diet lacks is the bulk necessary to prevent constipation, which is the cause of so much ill health.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN will furnish the bulk you need to keep well and fit.

ALL-BRAN is 100 per cent bran. It supplies roughage in concentrated quantities. Far better than part-bran products. At best, these can be but partially effective. ALL-BRAN is guaranteed to relieve constipation. Two tablespoonfuls daily — chronic cases, with every meal.

An appetizing, healthful cereal of unusually nutritious qualities. Serve it with milk or cream and add fruits or honey. Use it in cooking, too. Sold by all grocers. Served everywhere. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN

HER HUSBAND'S AWFUL COUGH ANNOYED EVERYONE NEAR HIM

His Cough Worried Family—Ordinary Remedies Did Him No Good

COUGHED WORSE NIGHTS AND WHEN INDOORS

"My husband months ago saw a doctor who said he was all right but that cough clung to him night and day. He would come from outdoors into the house, Movie or Church and cough would be hawking and coughing terribly and at night he was all stuffed up," declared Mrs. D. R. M——

"He even took Cod Liver Oil, although he hated it. I finally told our doctor, who laughingly said, 'Men are all alike and can't blame him much, so get him a big bottle of Lin-O-Nine, which is a nice tasting Flax-seed Oil Cassia Expectorant Potassa Iron Mono and Glycerine tonic far better than Cod Liver Oil and works quicker.

RESULTS WONDERFUL

"He liked Lin-O-Nine so well he took a spoonful before meals until the whole bottle was gone. It not only stopped his coughing but built him up fine. I never saw medicine work such wonders before. Children love to take it, too.

"A cough is dangerous this time of year. Well stocked druggists have Lin-O-Nine, 50c or $1.00 sizes or send dollar to Lin-O-Nine Famous Herb Chemical Company, Brentwood, Md., for large bottle, parcel post.

Sables and Silks

NEVER have furs been manipulated so beautifully or handled in more subtle style. Present-day pelts, as treated, become so pliable that they may be fashioned with all the beautiful intricacies of satin and soft cloth fabrics.

The favored line is the straight silhouette with introduced flare and deep shawl collar. Scarfs of contrasting fur sewn inside the collar are popular and smart.

Ermine still reigns supreme in the evening mode—combined with white or tinted fox, stone-marten and sable. Soft white caracul, however, is very lovely treated in this style.

SPORTS COAT in Leopard Trimmed with Red Fox.

VARIOUS fur styles are pictured here, all of them youthful and smart.

Ermine remains the regal and flattering medium for evening wraps. Capes are in high form this season, collared and banded in Russian sable and finished at the hem-line with claws and tails. The beauty of this style and fur combination is illustrated in the picture seen above and slightly to the right in a wrap whose elegance does not surrender one whit of youthful style.

Slightly more abrupt of line, but no less rich is the wrap appearing in the upper left hand corner. It is of white caracul trimmed lavishly with fox tinted a pinkish beige for shawl collar and cuffs.

Manchurian ermine, pale topaz in color, makes an unusual sports and town coat. It may be worn in jaunty fashion or gathered about the figure in the slim back and full front of the fashionable silhouette. This type of coat may be seen in the lower right corner, with skins beautifully employed in a lengthening diagonal line.

Selected as the gem of a recent fur showing, the leopard day, or sports coat appearing at right center gives sufficient excuse for the present popularity of this somewhat bizarre fur. It is pictured with a smart felt turban in brown shadings, with turned backed brim in front and side trim of self material. The markings of leopard skin make it a stunning medium for the sports mode.

Beautiful skins of pressed sandalwood caracul have been used in the coat pictured at the upper right. The skins have a silky gloss which is rich as well as flattering. The coat is straight-silhouetted, with slightly flaring sleeves trimmed with deep cuffs of stone marten. The shawl collar, also of marten, sweeps to the waist.

Badger and lynx are favored among the newer fur trimmings, looking particularly attractive on cloth ensembles. Muffs, tiny round ones, are approved by the couturiers, but it is a matter of speculation whether these will be adopted generally.

Naturally, with fur collars full and of the stand-up variety the favored hat is the tiny cloche or turban, brimless in back. Only the tiniest brim is comfortable to wear with this generous fluffy type of collar.

BETTY SOULE'S MISSION AID TOLD BY BETTY ALDEN

Will Open Sale in Boston Next Week to Dispose of Grenfell Products

WHEN MISS BETTY SOULE OF THE VINCENT CLUB, THE Junior League and the town's youthful elect, fared forth into the farway Northland to serve at the Grenfell Mission she showed her venturesome spirit and fine enthusiasm for the splendid work accomplished on the Labrador by Sir Wilfred and his associates. But unlike some society fledglings trying their wings at so serious a business, Miss Soule's spirit and enthusiasm took her with flying colors through one entire summer's service and then carried her back to the Mission for a second season. And that is not the end of it.

THERE'S NOTHING MISS SOULE OVERLOOKS OR NEGLECTS when the welfare of the Mission is concerned. Her service ends not with the ending of summer. Each autumn she comes home with a fine freight of articles made by the Mission folk, which she manages to sell for them and so turn a pretty penny, no mean feat in this day of many, many philanthropies, all worthy and appealing and ardently boosted! On Monday she sets up shop at 77 Newbury st. and her stock will be a rare showing of hooked rugs, toys, woven baskets, handwoven articles and, of course, Christmas cards.

AND SO IT IS A BIT OF HOLIDAY CHEER SHE IS ABLE TO send back to those patient workers who delve so painstakingly up North through a long winter. Miss Soule has the sort of enthusiasm that enlists others under the Grenfell banner. Miss Dorothy Lawrence, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Lawrence, for one, responded to the call and went for a summer at the Mission. Indeed thus to serve has been somewhat the thing for Bostonian young folk—the roster of those who have volunteered including both girls and young men delighting to get out of stereotyped paths.

THE WEDDING JOURNEY TO OLD WORLD SHRINES IS THE proper thing for Upper Crusty ones—so Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Harrower follow that path and now are in France. Their honeymoon ship was the de France and their immediate destination any part of the continent whatsoever that catches vagrant fancy. Mrs. Harrower was Miss Elizabeth Van Cortlandt Lyman, daughter of the Ronald Lymans, and her marriage commenced in a beautiful ceremonial in Emmanuel Church and wound up with wedding breakfast at the Lyman's fine old mansion on Beacon Hill. Mr. Harrower hails from Worcester and lives in Providence and will take his bride there when they come back about New Year's.

SINGING AT DUSK IN HER AUNT'S COMMONWEALTH AVE. drawingroom before a small company of guests, Miss Katharine Cunningham Gray was a delightful figure of enthusiastic girlhood. Vivid she was, and sparkling eyed, the very essence of aspiring youth wonderfully endowed to tread the artistic path that eventually leads to fame and fortune. A critique would concede her a mezzo soprano voice excellently trained. A masculine admirer would consider her an adorable feminine creature with beauty and brains and that subtle something defined as charm. A feminine observer would see that Miss Gray wears her lovely frocks with a knowing air.

TO A MAESTRO EVER ALERT FOR BUDDING TALENT MISS GRAY would appeal with her poise, her warm magnetic personality and her youthful beauty, always the touchstones of concert stage success. She's one of the many Smart Set girls who dip into the social whirl for an ecstatic First Winter, play the butterfly to the last flicker of frivolous wings, and then turn seriously in quest of a career. Good fairies hovering about her cradle gave her a voice which wisely she has had trained, excellently. Now fame, that will of the wisp for some always beyond reach, beckons alluringly, but not for Miss Gray.

Mrs. Gordon Harrower whose stately beauty, as Miss Elizabeth Van C. Lyman, was a hyword in her exclusive set. Now as a matron she is a distinctive figure going from Boston to shine in the fashionable world of Providence. Mr. and Mrs. Ronald T. Lyman of 39 Beacon st. are her parents.

MRS. FRANCIS GRAY OF No. 126 Commonwealth ave. was hostess for her pretty niece, the songstress, who interpreted some delightful songs with grace. One she sang was of the carter wending his way homeward, singing to his beast of burden as that animal lingers by the way. Another had never been heard in this country before, and so the program went to show Miss Gray's facility in several tongues. They say she is perfectly at home in French; that liquid Spanish and flowing Italian are at her tongue's end, and even Russian does not daunt so talented a singer.

Katharine Cunningham Gray Proves Charming Songstress at Recital

ONE MICHAEL GOLD, PLAYWRIGHT AND AUTHOR, DIPPED a pen into the inkpot where soothes Mexican love, with its sweets of victory and bitters of defeat, and so inscribed a work called "Fiesta." Along comes the Harvard Dramatic Club, needy young men looking for something worthy their public and of its theatrical attention, as a December offering. The Mexican comedy of aristocrat and peon appeals mightily, since in the Dramatic Club no play producing labors are too arduous, and so the Gold play saw the light of day in Cambridge on December 12, 13 and 14 and in Boston on the 15th.

IT'S NO FLEDGLING THE HARVARD DRAMATIC CLUB. Through 30 productions they have achieved along the path of theatrical vicissitude to a measure of glory. All this past experience is wealth untold for today's members, who attack all phases of production well armed with invention and talent. Charles Leather bee, president of the club, supervises the costumes that must breathe the very breath of Mexican picturesqueness. Messrs. Leach, Rahr and Hamilton between them supervise make-up, art and music. Messrs. King, Thompson, Jennison and Smith shine not as footlight material but in the utilitarian manner of properties, lights and publicity.

WHERE FEMININE GRACE AND BEAUTY ARE NECESSARY to decorate the stage the Dramatic Club enlists Miss Norma Varney as lead and in her support Miss Sara Sherburne, Miss Mary Crandon and Miss Patricia Stevenson. A sinuosity of Spanish grace and fire is woven into the theme as Miss Gloria Braggiotti does some dances. And Dramatic Club members qualifying for "leads" are Messrs. Smith, Wallstein, Pickard, Jones, Adamson and Harrington. The "out front" affairs are perfectly safe in such experienced hands as Messrs. Hazard, Batchelder, Mella, Quigley, Von Briesen and Gerrich.

THIS IS THE WEDDING EVE OF MISS ESTHER GARDNER, granddaughter of the George Peabody Gardners, and as such entitled to her place in Boston's social sun second to none. For so clever a girl, so attractive, one so insouciant, it is quite on the cards she should give a dash of piquancy to the social sauce and do the accepted thing a bit differently. So it is that this evening Miss Gardner herself is hostess to her wedding party, the young men and maidens who tomorrow at noon escort her to the altar to be joined in holy wedlock with Arnold W. Jones.

THE GROWNUPS OF THE ENTOURAGE DINE AND DANCE AT the Beacon at establishment of grandmere and grandpere. Such a festal wedding eve means nothing whatsoever to little Miss Katharine Monks, small daughter to the Rev. George Monks and Mrs. Monks, who is keeping nursery hours and is a flower girl tomorrow. Miss Margaret Wentworth, Miss Virginia Curtin, Miss Rachel Jackson, Miss Emelie Merriman, Miss Mary Gawthorpe and Miss Catherine Gardner will be on hand to sweep the bride up to the wedding hour on a wave of syncopation. A pretty group, these girls, cleverly chosen for grace and distinction to accompany a bride who will be distractingly lovely in her bridal white.

FROM BOSTON'S BELGRAVIA TO THE PROVIDENCE SMART SET that moves on its own gay orbit is a pleasant transition for the bride-elect. Mr. Jones hails from the Rhode Island city and Miss Gardner is persona grata with its youthful fashionables. And membership in the Hope Club, the Agawam and the Univ. ity in New Haven indicate a lively environment for the newlyweds. Big blue "Y's" are honors Mr. Jones wears with great credit to himself and alma mater, won on tennis courts in this country and abroad. George Peabody Gardner will give his beloved grandchild in marriage tomorrow as nuptial music resounds in St. Paul's in Brookline and the quality of the town settles into its allotted places.
